The first group of papers comprising MS 5414 consists of photographs, an autograph book, student reports from Guildhall, and two scrapbooks containing cuttings, programs, music scores and some letters, including one from Peter Dawson. The second consignment is mainly music scores, including the operas Alaya, The jolly friar, the plays David and Myfanwy, Perhaps one day, and published works such as Some Australian songs for children and Four songs of Australia. There is also some correspondence with William F. Morriss, six discs and a manuscript titled "Edith Harry musician extraordinaire: a personal memoir" by her daughter, Honor Marianne Coutts. The collection includes about 154 letters to Harry from Con Daly (10 boxes, 4 fol. Boxes).??The Acc08.082 instalment comprises letters, family photographs (originals and copies of), manuscript and published music scores of Harry's songs and other compositions, genealogical materials such as family trees, recital programs and clippings relating to performances of Harry's works, pay slips from ABC, typescript of "A character reverence" (biography of Harry by Honor Coutts) (4 boxes).
