

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE4398

De Groen, Alma Margaret

(1941 -)

Born 5 September, 1941, Manawatu North Island New Zealand

Occupation Playwright

Summary

A New Zealander by birth, Alma De Groen has distinguished herself as a feminist playwright whilst living in Australia and Canada. On moving to Australia in 1964, she wrote her first play, The Sweatproof boy in 1968. She has written for live theatre, film, radio and television in Canada and Australia. In 1998 she was the first playwright to win the Patrick White Award for her contribution to Australian theatre. In 2003 she returned to live and work in New Zealand.

Details

Alma De Groen's plays include: The Joss Adams Show, The after-life of Arthur Cravan, Going home, Chidley, Vocations, The Rivers of China, The girl who saw everything, The woman in the window, Wicked sisters.

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Edited Book

Australian Feminism: A Companion, Caine, Barbara, Gatens, Moira et al., 1998

Archival resources

Special Collections, Academy Library, UNSW@ADFA

Alma de Groen manuscript collection

Author Details

Rosemary Francis

Created 12 January 2009

Last modified 12 January 2009