(1888 - 1915)

Born 21 July, 1888

Died 31 December, 1915

Occupation Women's club

Summary

The Princess Ida Club was established on 21 July 1888 and intended to “promote the common interests of, and to form a bond of union between the present and past women students” of the University of Melbourne. The women students' club took its name from Tennyson's 'The Princess' and their colours were lilac and daffodil. The activities of the Club included social functions, debates, and literary discussions. In 1915 the Club merged with the University Union Women's Representative Committee.

Events

1970 - 1970

Debate organised by the Princess Ida Club on women and the franchise held at the University of Melbourne.
