

The Australian Women's Register

---

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE0870

Wotherspoon, Judith

(1944 - )

---

Born 1 January, 1944, Melbourne Victoria

---

Occupation Nurse, Nurse educator

---

Summary

Judith Wotherspoon was born in Melbourne and came to Adelaide with her parents at the age of eight. After nursing in Papua New Guinea, Britain and Canada, Judith studied at Flinders University for a Bachelor of Arts degree. Subsequently she worked in the field of community health and as a part-time lecturer at Sturt College of Advanced Education. Between 1982 and 1985 she was senior lecturer in nursing at the Darwin Community College, then went to the University of New South Wales to complete a masters degree in health planning. At the time of the interview Judith was about to take up an appointment as lecturer in nursing at the South Australian Institute of Technology (now the University of South Australia).

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Archival resources

State Library of South Australia

[Interview with Judith Wotherspoon \[sound recording\]](#) Interviewer: Joan Durdin

Author Details

Robin Secomb

Created 8 April 2004

Last modified 16 September 2013