

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE1752

Shnookal, Deborah Jane

(1953 -)

Born 1 January, 1953

Occupation Activist, Editor

Summary

Deborah Shnookal was a student activist who ran for election once in New South Wales, before building a career in writing and editing. She represented the Socialist Workers Party in the New South Wales Legislative Assembly election for Phillip in 1976.

Details

Deborah Shnookal was active in the Melbourne Women's Liberation Movement for some years before moving to live in Sydney. She was Chairperson and one of the organisers of the Melbourne International Women's Day rallies in 1975 and 1975 and during 1975 worked full-time for the Women's Abortion Action campaign in Melbourne.

At the time of her candidacy, she was a staff writer for Direct Action, the paper published by the Socialist Workers party.

In 2002 she was Latrobe University in and she has subsequently edited several books for Ocean Press in its Radical History and Radical Lives series.

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Site Exhibition

Putting Skirts on the Sacred Benches: Women Candidates for the New South Wales Parliament, Australian Women's Archives Project, 2006,

<http://www.womenaustralia.info/exhib/pssb/home.html>

Author Details

Annette Alafaci

Created 14 December 2005

Last modified 6 February 2006