Summary

Gabrielle Tindall was a once only candidate, inspired by her passionate commitment to the environment. She was an Independent candidate for the New South Wales Legislative Assembly seat of Coffs Harbour in 2003. At the time of her campaign she had lived in Bellingen, in a "handmade house" with her husband and four children, for twenty years. She was a member of the North Coast Environment Council, and the Upper North Coast Water Management Committee. Passionate about water, she was also a member of COW (Cows Out of Water).

Gabrielle Tindall was born in England, and came to Australia as a child. She was educated in Melbourne, gaining her Higher School Certificate and a diploma in Design. She began but did not complete an Arts degree at Melbourne University and works as a Craftsperson.
