

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE4826

Crow, Kimberley

(1985 -)

Born 9 September, 1985, Melbourne Victoria Australia

Occupation Olympian, Rower

Summary

Kimberley Crow is an Australian Olympic Champion. She won a gold medal at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro in Rowing, in the Women's Single Sculls.

Crow has also served as Chair of the Athlete's Commission for the Australian Olympic Committee.

In 2017 she was became a Member in the General Division of the Order of Australia 'for significant service to rowing, to the welfare of elite athletes, to sport as a gold medallist at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, and to the community'.

Events

2012 - 2012

Rowing – women's double sculls

2012 - 2012

Rowing – women's single sculls

2016 - 2016

Rowing – Single Sculls

2017 - 2017

For significant service to rowing, to the welfare of elite athletes, to sport as a gold medallist at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, and to the community

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Author Details

Nikki Henningham

Created 16 August 2012

Last modified 19 February 2019